Welcome to Create Ceramic Studio

Emily & Kimberly

CO-OWNERS OF CRAFTED

We're so glad you're here. This Member Handbook exists to keep our studio safe, welcoming, and grounded in the values that make Crafted Art Club special: creativity, community, accessibility, and sustainability).

Because members have 24/7 access and share the space with others, clear policies make sure everyone feels comfortable, supported, and empowered to create freely.

These rules protect the studio, the equipment, and most importantly, you.

Studio policies may occasionally be updated to reflect safety needs, operational changes, or best practices. When policies change, updates will be posted on our website. By continuing your membership, you acknowledge and accept any posted modifications.

“

Our vision is to build a thriving, collaborative ceramics community where artists at every level grow, experiment, and reconnect with their creativity. Thank you for being part of it.

Health & Safety

Creating in a ceramics studio means working with tools, equipment, and materials that require care. These guidelines protect you, other members, and the longevity of our shared space. Following them keeps the studio safe, clean, and enjoyable for everyone.

Personal Responsibility & Preparedness

Please do not come to the studio if you are sick. Wear appropriate clothing, including closed-toe shoes, and secure long hair. Avoid loose jewelry or accessories that may catch on equipment. When sanding or handling dry clay, use a mask to protect your lungs.

Clean Workspace Practices

Members must keep their work areas clean. Wipe down tables, wheels, tools, and any shared surfaces after use. Mop any wet or slippery areas you create to prevent accidents and maintain a safe environment for others.

Safe Studio Conduct

Follow all posted safety notices, firing guidelines, and staff instructions. Use equipment only as intended and remain mindful of others working around you. Your attention to these rules helps maintain a safe, supportive, and well-functioning community studio.

Kiln & Firing Policies

Ceramic firing involves high heat, shared equipment, and carefully timed processes. These rules protect the kilns, ensure fairness for all members, and keep the studio running safely.

Our studio is mid-fire meaning we fire bisque pieces at Orton Cone temperature 06 and glaze pieces at Orton Cone temperature 6.

Firing Eligibility & Proper Preparation

Only Crafted staff may load or operate the kilns. All work must be clearly labeled with your full name and must be fully dry before bisque firing. Pieces with cracks, air pockets, structural issues, improper application, or are wet may be refused to prevent damage to other work or the kiln.

Firing Turnaround & Risk of Loss

Typical turnaround time is 8–12 days, but schedules may vary. Firing outcomes can never be guaranteed. Breakage, cracking, or kiln-related flaws are a normal part of ceramics and not grounds for refunds, replacements, or credits. By participating, you acknowledge the inherent risks and accept that results are not always predictable.

Glazing Requirements & Kiln Safety

Glaze must remain at least ½ inch from the base unless using stilts or designated methods. Members are responsible for cleaning glaze drips, properly preparing their pieces, and following all posted instructions.

Any glaze misuse or improper application that results in kiln damage may lead to membership suspension, refusal of firing privileges, or reimbursement for repairs.

Termination & Breach of Agreement

Every member plays a critical role in keeping the studio safe, functional, and welcoming. These rules protect you, other members, and the studio itself. Serious violations can put people, equipment, and the business at risk, so we enforce these policies strictly.

Membership may be terminated immediately for:

- Intentional misuse or damage of equipment
- Bringing guests into the studio
- Theft of materials, tools, or work
- Harassment or unsafe behavior
- Repeated failure to follow cleanup or firing policies
- Tampering with kilns or electrical equipment
- Failure to pay outstanding fees
- Violating access rules or sharing door codes
- Illegal activity on or near premises
- Any conduct that jeopardizes safety, security, or studio integrity

- Written warning
- Suspension of membership
- Permanent termination of membership
